Did you know you can make great beer? Did you know you can make great beer....in color? The importance of brewing with a large yeast colony? The headaches one can avoid by using a nylon hop bag? The best Sanitizer on the market? Why to spend the extra money on oxygen-absorbing caps and a false-bottom mash tun? Professional Author and long-time Homebrewer, Jason Rizos shares tips and tricks you won't find anywhere else, focusing on homebrewing equipment, from a beginner's first "extract" kit, to All Grain, to outdoor 15 gallon "keggle" systems, explaining technique and purpose behind all the gadgetry along the way. "Guides the first-time homebrewer through his or her first few years of brewing, explaining the most cost-effective way to get started, the things to worry about and things to blow off, and many secrets in this short introduction to the wonderful world of homebrew." - John Krakow, Master Brewer
