My grandfather was born raised in Cornwall. My father always told me and my sisters about how Papa insisted that my grandmother (German American) learn how to make pasties. We visited Pendeen a couple of years back and bought a copy of this in the gift shop at the Geevor Tin Min after taking the fascinating tour. This brief tome will tell you everything you ever wanted to know about authentic Cornish Pasties. I've been making them since we visited and there's nothing better than a piping hot pasty straight from the oven! I generally prefer the traditional beef pasty, but this amazing little book presents many varieties for all tastes and diets.
