I have made two recipes already and will be making many more. Obviously, some of the ingredients are not always easy to get where I live in Dominica in the Caribbean but I always improvise. Really good read, great photographs, well written.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. I can't wait to bake!By CustomerIf you love to bake you will enjoy these authentic recipes from premier British baker Paul Hollywood! He takes you to exotic places as he travels the world in search of new and interesting bakes.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. I love the recipesBy CustomerI love the recipes, but I have to look up the measurements as all my utensils use American measures instead of British.

Containing both sweet and savory recipes inspired by cities from around the world, including Paris, Copenhagen, Miami, New York, London, and Naples, Paul takes classic bakes and gives them his own twist. From Madeleines to Kale, Cherry and Cheese Scones, Caprese Cake to Chelsea Buns and Polish Cheesecake to Marble Bundt Cake, take some weekend time out in the kitchen to discover some new favorite bakes. As Paul found on his travels, baking is very much a family activity and so many of the world's recipes have been passed down from generation to generation. Now he wants to pass them on to you and your families.

About the Author Having held the position of Head Baker at exclusive establishments such as Cliveden, The Chester Grosvenor, and The Dorchester, Paul Hollywood began his media career in 2002. He has judged The Great British Bake Off alongside Mary Berry since the start. His previous books include How to Bake and Paul Hollywood's British Baking.
