When her sister was born disabled in 1971, they returned to Northern California. Since that time, Carma has lived in several states around the U.S., including Florida, Texas, Maryland and Arizona, where she resides now. Having been bitten by the travel bug at such a young age, she's also spent time in the U.K. as a summer exchange student and traveled in Spain and Romania. A science fiction fan since Kindergarten, she writes fiction and poetry in her spare time, and collects dragons. With more than 20 years experience in marketing, public relations and communications, she currently helps authors, speakers and coaches develop and nurture a thriving web presence. And, as you can see by some of her book titles, she loves to cook!
